Evan Coluccio and Pritchard Hill Earn Grand Hunter Championship Title at the Upperville Colt & Horse Show

Wednesday concluded competition in the professional hunter divisions at the 2021 Upperville Colt & Horse Show (UCHS), where Evan Coluccio and Balmoral's Pritchard Hill captured the Grand Hunter Championship, which is awarded to the horse acquiring the greatest number of points in one or more rated divisions. Scott Stewart once again claimed the Leading Hunter Rider award after earning tricolor honors in several divisions.

Coluccio and Pritchard Hill, a 9-year-old Warmblood gelding, acquired points in the High Performance Conformation division, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Oare. Over Tuesday's and Wednesday's competition the pair captured two firsts and two seconds in the over fences classes and handy round, while also winning the under saddle class. The pair received the Sallie J. Sexton Challenge Trophy donated by Sexton's family.

Coluccio described how easy Pritchard Hill was in the barn and just how fun he is to have. He explained that he loves to go on trail rides and being ridden by the juniors. Later this week, Alexa Lignelli will show Pritchard Hill in the Junior Hunters.

In Wednesday's final professional division, Scott Stewart captured the High Performance Hunter Reserve championship aboard Dr. Betsee Parker's Hudson to clinch the Leading Hunter Rider award. Stewart was also champion or reserve in almost every other professional hunter division. He was awarded the Charlie Weaver Memorial Perpetual Trophy donated by Pamela Vance, Brian Simonson and his friends and family in his honor for obtaining the highest number of rider points during the professional hunter divisions.

Hunter competition will return to the Main Hunter Ring on Thursday at 8 a.m. with the Amateur-Owner Hunter divisions, while Hunter Ring II will feature the Local Pony Hunter divisions.

Quentin Judge and HH Qualido Quickly Conquer 1.40m Open Jumpers at Upperville Colt & Horse Show

The 1.40m Open Jumpers once again highlighted jumper action at the 168th Upperville Colt & Horse Show (UCHS), where it was Quentin Judge who captured the winning honors aboard HH Qualido. The international athlete claimed the win in a race to the finish line that was less than 1/100th of a second faster than Vanessa Hood and Santauer, who would finish in second place while Gavin Harley and Kavalli Di Magico rounded out the top three.

Marina Azevedo of Brazil designed the inviting course in the B&D Builders Jumper Ring I, which featured two oxer-vertical double combinations. Ten entries were faultless over the opening track to advance to the jump-off where quick rollbacks and inside turns were the key to topping the leaderboard.

Harley and Clear Ride LLC's Kavalli Di Magico set the pace to beat early in the class, breaking the beams in 34.460 seconds with no faults added to their score. The lead did not hold for long though, as Judge was next in the ring with Double H Farm's HH Qualido. Two inside turns and one less stride to the final vertical allowed the quick duo to edge ahead with a clear time of 34.240 seconds. At the end of the class, Hood tried to catch Judge with Sanateur, coming extremely close with a faultless time of 34.249 seconds, less than 1/100ths of second slower than Judge. Hood would settle for the second position while Harley would claim third place, leaving Judge to take home the winning honors.

Judge noted that HH Qualido, a 12-year-old Havonverian gelding, is one of his favorite mounts who always wants to win, but is also a sweet horse in the barn that his children enjoy as well. Wednesday proved to be no exception for talented horse's winning ways as they galloped to several delicate verticals, clearing them easily to edge out Hood for their second win of the week, having topped the 1.35m Tuesday.

International competition at the Upperville Colt & Horse Show will begin Thursday in the B&D Builders Jumper Ring I with the $37,000 FEI 4* Power & Speed Stakes, presented by Sotheby's Realty. The first FEI event of the week will be followed by the $30,00 Upperville American Standard Grand Prix, presented by the Ingram Family.
